

Memo to Mighty Members Tip #157

FOLLOW-UP: Menopause and Burns

June 1, 2023

Today's memo brings not only one follow-up but two!

First, in Sunday's blog post, Death, Taxes and Menopause, I promised to send you more information on Boiron's Cyclease® Menopause.

I think you'll find the pharmacological information in the monograph fascinating as it validates the usefulness of this combination medicine for perimenopausal or menopausal symptoms. (You'll need to be logged into your Mighty Members' account for these links to work. After all, this is extra information I'm sharing just with you.)

And I also promised you a coupon! (Again, log into your Mighty Members' account to access this link.)

And as a little extra, you might want to check out Boiron's blog for some surprising facts about menopause.

But in the interim, I received an email from my dear friend Joe De Livera (of "Joepathy" fame). We have developed a close relationship as we have worked together on several projects — not the least of which are his highly educational and fascinating interviews for students in The Academy of Practical Homeopathy®.

After my recent blog article, Cantharis for Burns, Joe sent me his clinical experience with an additional homeopathic medicine for burns! As I always say, there's more than one way to skin a cat in homeopathy. (I assure you no cats were harmed in the making of that old-time expression.)

By sharing Joe's email below, I endeavor, as always, to impart as much information as I can to you. That's why you're a Mighty Member, isn't it?

Hi Joette,

This article on Cantharis is interesting, but I don't think that it is as effective as CAUSTICUM 200.

I have used it on the tea maker (working at Titus Stores about 20 years ago), who accidentally was elbowed by another sales assistant, knocking the lid off the kettle and causing the boiling water to cascade down her front body.

I rushed home and inserted 4 drops of Causticum 200 in a 350ml bottle of water, which I rushed back to the office.

I sent her home in my car, and she was back in 2 days and reassured me that she did not have any blisters under her burnt skin and that shortly after she took a few sips of the medicine, she felt immediate relief.

Love,

Joe

*Feel free to use this news in your blog, and you might indicate the potency I used. I could not believe that the result was visible overnight.

My friend, if learning from world-renowned leaders such as Joe De Livera interests you, then, by all means, join my Academy Founders' List. There is no obligation when you sign up for the list; you'll simply learn more about what my Academy offers.

But the clock is, unfortunately, ticking. A new academic year starts soon, so enrollment will close until 2024! So, learn more while there's still time!
