

Memo to Mighty Members Tip #188

INSPIRATION: Don't Beige Me!

January 4, 2024

My dearest Mighties, I discovered a designer on YouTube with a fearless style. Bambi Sloan puts oranges with purples, greens with pinks and leopard print everywhere.

She's gutsy, and that's what I like about her.

She doesn't follow the norm, but she's not funky just for the sheer sake of being different. Her style is not contrived; it's authentic and genuine.

I actually laughed out loud — all by myself — when the interviewer asked her if she had any fears.

“You know what frightens me to death? Beige. I’m frightened of beige. Please don’t hurt me with beige.”

I believe that’s going to be my new motto! “Don’t beige me!” Excite me with your ideas, your guts, spunk and moxie. Turn me on with your ability to step away from the vapidness of being a follower. Give me the freethinker, the fighter and the fearless!

Don’t beige me.

Fearlessness is not beige. Fearlessness is neon orange with hot pink. Fearlessness is leopard print — lots and lots of leopard print.

Beige is doing as you’re told instead of finding the depth and breadth of a subject before making a decision.

My friends, does that sound familiar?

Homeopathy requires just such fearlessness. It requires guts, questioning and study to reveal our medical paradigm’s color.

There’s so much mediocrity in the world, but I believe everyone has the ability to find their inner hot pink. If you’re going to do anything great in life, you simply can’t embrace beige.

A quote often attributed to Goethe is, “Whatever you can do, or dream you can do, begin it. Boldness has genius, power, and magic in it!”

So, in 2024, be bold! Be fearless. Find your inner hot pink. Yet, don't do any of this simply to be audacious. Instead, be bold and fearless in connection with something all-encompassing and filled with color and significance: Practical Homeopathy®.

And say it along with me as we begin this new year:

Don't beige me.
